

SDSU HealthLINK Center CEC – FHCSO Scientist in Residence (SIR) Program Application

Please submit your completed application along with your CV or NIH biosketch to be considered for a 3CR course release (AY 2026-2027) to participate in the SIR program. We strongly encourage you to review publicly available information online about FHCSO clinical and community services and the Laura Rodriguez Research Institute (LRRl). The following are areas of clinical and research priority for FHCSO and LRRl: child and maternal health, chronic disease prevention and management, homelessness, vaccine promotion, physical and rehabilitation medicine, mental health and substance use disorders, mobile and/or digital health.

1. Faculty First and Last Name:
2. Faculty Rank:
3. SDSU Department Affiliation:
4. SDSU Department Chairperson:
5. Faculty Contact Information:
 - a. Email address:
 - b. Phone number:
6. Preferred semester for assigned time: Fall 2026 / Spring 2027 / Either
7. Do you have verbal approval from your Department Chair to receive 3CR of Assigned Time for research in AY 2026-2027? Yes / No
8. Please indicate that you agree to meet the expectations of the SIR program if selected? (if yes, check the box)
 - Complete onboarding as a volunteer at FHCSO.
 - Attend regular meetings with the FHCSO clinician scientist and HealthLINK CEC.
 - Attend clinic or operational meetings/events at FHCSO related to research area.
 - Develop a written plan for collaborative research.
 - Conduct a review of FHCSO EHR to prep for development of a research proposal.
 - Produce a culminating product tailored to the scope of work.
9. Statement of Research Interest: [in ≤500 words max, please describe your research area of interest]
10. Interest in collaborating with Family Health Centers of San Diego (FHCSO)? [in ≤500 words max, please explain why you would like to develop a research collaboration with FHCSO and indicate a potential FHCSO program or clinical service that may align well with your research interests.]

Please submit application to healthlink.cec@sdsu.edu by May 18th, 2026, at 11:59pm.